

Website Terms of Use

These terms govern access to and use of the Laird & Lorn presentation website during its current pre-launch phase.

1. Purpose

These terms define the rules governing access to and use of the Laird & Lorn presentation website.

The website presents the house, its approach, materials, commitments and projects. It is currently a pre-launch website and does not offer online sales.

2. Website Access

The website is available free of charge, subject to the costs of Internet access and the equipment required.

Laird & Lorn seeks to maintain website availability but cannot guarantee continuous availability, particularly in the event of maintenance, technical incidents or circumstances beyond its control.

3. Content

Laird & Lorn takes care to provide accurate and relevant information. However, presentation content, material specifications, projects, collections and information concerning the future development of the house may evolve.

Published information does not constitute an offer for sale and does not create any contractual obligation to sell.

4. Intellectual Property

Website content is protected by applicable intellectual property laws. Unauthorized use of texts, images, graphics, photographs, videos, trademarks or other content is prohibited.

5. External Links

The website may contain links to third-party services or websites. Laird & Lorn does not control these websites and cannot be held responsible for their content, availability or practices.

6. Personal Data

Personal data processing carried out through the website is described in the Privacy Policy available through the website footer.

7. Changes to These Terms

Laird & Lorn may update these terms to reflect changes to the website, its services or applicable regulations.

8. Governing Law

These terms are governed by French law. In the event of a dispute, the applicable rules of jurisdiction shall determine the competent court.

These terms are not Terms and Conditions of Sale (T&Cs). Dedicated sales terms will be published before the online store opens and any distance sales take place.
